Rarriek promoted to county road supervisor

By Ed Salerno, Reporter

Pendleton County Attorney Jeff Dean presented the Pendleton County Fiscal Court with the terms of the agreement resulting from Larry Browning's plea bargain when they met on Tuesday, January 13, 2015. The terms are that Browning must pay $7,500 to the Fiscal Court for reimbursement of expenses incurred by the Court during the year's time that the Court was responsible for all the horses on his farm. A lien has been placed against Browning's farm until the payment has been received.

Newly elected Judge/Executive David Fields along with magistrates Rick Mineer, Gary Veirs, Bobby Fogle and Alan Whaley voiced their appreciation to Dean for all the effort he put into this case.

Emergency Management Director Mike Moore presented an opportunity for an enhanced accreditation program for the 911 Dispatch at a cost of $2,500. This would provide an opportunity for the county to coordinate the accreditation of all emergency services and law enforcement. This would put Pendleton County among a group of only ten counties with this high standard of accreditation. The magistrates agreed this would be good for the county, but Mineer voiced some concern that this was money not allocated for in the 2015 budget.

A decision was required at that meeting to keep the opportunity from going to another county. Veirs moved that the Court accept the first round of the accreditation program. He felt that there was time to get the money in the 2016 budget and set us up for a four-year run and that the Court could opt out if they chose. Mineer was the only

Dennie to retire as Outlook publisher/editor

By Jackie Vaughn, Reporter

After three decades of undying love and commitment to The Falmouth Outlook, longtime editor and publisher Debbie Dennie will officially be retiring from her duties at the newspaper on Friday, January 23. Neil Belcher will be taking over daily operation of the business.

Dennie started her newspaper career as a typesetter in November of 1981 under the leadership of Warren J. Shonert when she was 31 years old. She quickly rose through the ranks learning all aspects of the business and was named publisher/editor in September of 1988. A couple of other jobs went with it and they were advertising and circulation manager.

PUBLISHER/EDITOR DEBBIE DENNIE

"When I first started the newspaper was using one of the old Linotype machine," said Dennie. "Warren used it to set up type to print business cards for customers and do other kinds of commercial printing. I've seen this business change quite a bit over the years. We used to do everything by hand and now computers handle the largest part of the job. I've also seen pictures go from the dark room to the digital era of today."

In her many years in the news business Dennie has been involved with every job at The Outlook at some point or another. She has worked in typesetting, designing and selling advertising, page layout and even delivery of the newspapers when drivers were sick and couldn't make the trip. Countless hours have also been spent as a reporter/photographer covering political and business meetings, sporting/athletic events,

Hospital sees 'alarming' jump in heroin ODs

By Terry DeMio,
The Kentucky Enquirer

A startling jump in heroin overdoses in Northern Kentucky in December has confounded those closely monitoring the epidemic in the region.

St. Elizabeth Healthcare reported saving the lives of 123 heroin-overdosed patients in its five emergency departments in December - the most since the hospital system started tracking such cases in 2011. Northern Kentucky coroners say their numbers of suspected heroin overdose deaths appear to be trending up as well.

"The December overdose numbers were alarming," said Ashel Krutzkamp, nurse manager of St. Elizabeth Healthcare Emergency Department.

The count is 64 percent higher than the previous high that St. Elizabeth emergency departments experienced - 75 patients in April. St. Elizabeth counts patients who identify themselves as heroin users.

The surge of heroin overdoses could be linked to more potent heroin or heroin cut with another drug, such as fentanyl, a powerful opioid analgesic, law enforcement officers say. But no one is sure why Northern Kentucky has experienced such a surge.

Across the river, officials at University of Cincinnati Medical Center - the primary hospital to treat Cincinnati-area heroin overdose patients - said they have not seen a corresponding increase. UC did not have a monthly breakdown of its emergency department heroin overdose patients available, but it recorded 124 for the last quarter of 2014 - October, November and December combined.

Northern Kentucky county coroners don't have an official count for December or January heroin overdose deaths, because they are awaiting toxicology tests. However, Campbell County Coroner Mark Schweitzer said his office handled three suspected heroin overdose deaths this past weekend. A man and a woman died Saturday, and a woman died Sunday, he said.

"All suggest heroin," Schweitzer said. "Three in one weekend is an unusual number."

Schweitzer noted that heroin overdose deaths tend to happen in bursts.

St. Elizabeth had a weekend in October in which 10 heroin overdose cases inundated its emergency rooms and two people died. Krutzkamp said then that emergency caregivers were dismayed by the cases pouring in. But the final number of heroin-overdose patients in October, at 55, was lower than many other months in 2014.

Dr. Ronald Lubbe, a forensic pathologist for the Kenton County Coroner's Office, said that while toxicology is not complete for his cases in December or January, he has "a stack" of suspected heroin overdose cases awaiting final reports.

"I think it's safe to say there's been an increase," Lubbe said.

The Hamilton County, Ohio Coroner's Office does not release information about suspected heroin-overdose deaths, said spokesman Terry Daly.

Northern Kentucky addiction recovery advocates, and medical and law enforcement leaders who closely watch the heroin epidemic, are at a loss to explain the spike in overdoses.

Bill Mark, director of the NKY Drug Strike Force, said it's too soon to know whether more heroin seized in December was cut with fentanyl. Narcotics agents throughout Greater Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky have seen some heroin sold on the streets that's laced with this narcotic to make a dangerous cocktail known in other parts of the nation as "killer heroin."

Van Ingram, executive director of the Kentucky Office of Drug Control Policy, said this week he hasn't heard of any increase in fentanyl from the state crime lab or medical examiner.

In December, the NKY Drug Strike Force joined heroin investigations on Melinda Lane in Florence after five adults were found overdosed on heroin in one mobile home - with young children present, Mark said. All five survived.

By Roger McKinney, Reporter

In 1966 I was the seventh grade teacher at Mt. Auburn Elementary in Pendleton County. I was also the Mt. Auburn basketball coach. Before they were consolidated there were seven elementary schools in the county that had basketball teams: Mt. Auburn, McKinneysburg, Falmouth, Morgan, Butler, Goforth and Saint Xavier. In the fall of 1966 Mt. Auburn's first game was with Morgan. The Mt. Auburn Eagles were concerned. "Do you think we can beat them?" they asked, "Look how tall they are." I assured the team that the Morgan players could not shoot the ball. "Check them out. They can't hit the broadside of a barn. You're going to win." I said. Mt. Auburn won that game and the Eagles went crazy! They were jumping up and down, they were screaming, they were hugging each other and they were crying. "Why are you so excited?" I asked, "You had them from the get go." The Eagle's captain answered, "Didn't anyone tell you? We lost all our games last year. This is the first time our team ever won." I will always remember the Eagle's reaction to victory on that night as being pure joy. They were happy and it made me happy.

From 1969 to 1972 I was the art teacher at Pendleton County High School. The art room was in the basement, under the gym. In the summer of 1970 I painted the walls of the art room with alternating 12 inch wide black and white stripes. On the first day of school that year one of my former students stepped into the room and asked, "Did you paint these walls with black and white stripes?" I said, "Yes I did." Then he said, "Thank goodness! For a moment there I thought we were trapped inside a zebra."

For the next 25 years I was a Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor in Northern Kentucky. I worked with clients who were in some way challenged, either physically, mentally or in development. Once I 20 and goes live for businesses Jan. 26.

"We encourage Kentuckians to take advantage of filing their taxes electronically as it is the fastest, easiest and most accurate way to do so," said Tom Miller, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Revenue.

Electronic filing, available to individuals since tax year 1995, has proved popular, and is the only way to have a refund direct deposited. Just in the last 5 years, e-filing for individuals has increased from 65 percent to more than 84 percent in 2014, nearly a 30 percent jump.

Kentucky's electronic system accepts several individual forms and supporting schedules including:

- Individual Income Tax Return for Full-Year Residents (Form 740);
- Individual Income Tax Return for Nonresidents and Part-Year Residents (Form 740-NP);
- Form 40A102 - Extension of Time to File Individual Income Tax Returns for Kentucky (must be filed by April 15, 2015).

If a taxpayer owes money to the state, he or she can still file the aforementioned forms, schedule a debit of the tax due, and make an estimated tax payment.

Some business forms are also available to file electronically for both refunds and payments including:

- Kentucky Corporation Income Tax and LLET Return (Form 720);
- Kentucky S Corporation Income Tax and LLET Return (Form 720-S);
- Kentucky Partnerships Income and LLET Return (Form 765).

community leaders are stepping up efforts to get rescue kits containing naloxone, a lifesaving pharmaceutical that blocks opiate receptors in the brain and restores breathing, to people on the streets.

Jason Merrick, chairman of Northern Kentucky People Advocating Recovery, has trained five teams of volunteers handing out naloxone rescue kits in Northern Kentucky counties and training the people who get them.

Casey's Bus, donated by recovery advocate Charlotte Wethington, continues to carry naloxone through the region. Wethington is the mother of Matthew "Casey" Wethington, who died at 23 of a heroin overdose in 2002.

And just this past week, Merrick announced he will hand out the kits at set days and times at Transitions' Grateful Life Center in Erlanger and at Transitions' Droegre Detox Center in Dayton.

RENÉ-HENRI CAPON, 89

René-Henri Capon, 89, of Falmouth, passed away on Friday, January 15, 2015, at the River Valley Nursing Home.

He was born in Ban-teux, France on February 21, 1925 to the late Henri and Marie Capon, a plater with American Standard for 10 years, an employee with Interlake Steel for 10 years, a member of the St. Francis Xavier Church, Falmouth. Before the liberation of France, he served in the French Military and was captured as a prisoner of war; he and his late wife worked together to aid American soldiers in France's underground movement during the war.

Preceding him in death, in addition to his parents, was his dear wife of 63 years, Marguerite Berton Capon.

Surviving are children, William Dominique (Lela) Capon, Jacques Henri Capon, Marguerite Marie (John) Cox, and Jean Paul Capon, all of Falmouth; six

Thank you

From the family of
Jenna Lorraine Crawford

We would like to thank our friends and family who have continuously supported and donated to Jenna's annual event the past four years and a very special thank you to Randy's Clothing Store. Since we lost our daughter four years ago, on Dec. 1st, in Jenna's memory, we have been able to provide a very special Christmas for some very special children. The first year it was all about fulfilling toys from Santa. The past three years it has been about gifting children with boots, coats, hats, gloves, clothing and a toy. Each year, Randy's Clothing Store has graciously closed their store to the public and lovingly invited our families into their store. Without the generous donations of family, friends and businesses along with the gracious volunteers, we would not be able to do this on our own. May God bless you and your families the way YOU have blessed our family in memory of our daughter, Jenna, who started this very special gifting during Christmas.

God Bless

Financial Peace University provides hope to families

More than 2.5 million families have positively changed their financial future through Dave Ramsey's Financial Peace University (FPU). The nine-week course provides families and individuals with practical tools to gain control of their finances and set themselves up for long-term financial success. The course meets once a week where a different lesson is taught by Dave on DVD followed by a small-group discussion. Lessons include budgeting, relationships and money, getting out of debt, saving for emergencies and investing. FPU will be held in Falmouth at:

- Harvest Community Church located at 111 E. Shelby Street in Falmouth. The classes will begin at 4 p.m. on Sunday, February 1, 2015. Contact Dale Bobb at 859-654-4673 for more information or to register. Through common-sense principles and small-group accountability, FPU gives people the tools they need to change their behavior and succeed financially. On average families who complete FPU pay off $5,300 and save $2,700 in the first 90 days. Following the class nearly 94 percent of those families budget regularly. "FPU will not only transform the way you handle money, but also your marriage and other areas of your life," says Ramsey. "This isn't a boring financial class. We make learning about money fun and easy to understand so people in every situation can benefit from the information." Ramsey knows firsthand the pain that financial stress can cause. After creating a net worth of more than a million dollars by age 26, he quickly lost it all. Since then Ramsey has helped families and individuals across the country learn how to get control of their finances and avoid debt so they don't have to experience the same pain he did. FPU lessons also include guest speakers Rachel Cruze, speaker and daughter of Dave Ramsey, and Chris Hogan, counselor and speaker for the Dave Ramsey organization. After purchasing a membership each participant receives a workbook, Dave Ramsey's Complete Guide to Money, an envelope system and an audio CD library. Participants will also have access to budgeting forms and MP3s of all the lessons. For more information or to purchase a membership, go to www.daveramsey.com. Dave Ramsey is America's trusted voice on money and business. He's authored five New York Times best-selling books: Financial Peace, More Than Enough, The Total Money Makeover, EntreLeadership and Smart Money Smart Kids. "The Dave Ramsey Show" is heard by more than 8 million listeners each week on more than 500 radio stations and iHeartRadio. Follow Dave on Twitter at @DaveRamsey and on the web at daveramsey.com.

Making preparations for cold temperatures this winter

New Year's 2015 arrived a few weeks ago, but already it's sending temperatures in the area plummeting. With single digits temperatures and subzero wind chills expected by mid-week, Kentucky Utilities Company encourages customers to prepare for the extreme cold. Have your furnace checked by a certified professional to make sure it's in peak operating condition. Remember to check your filter each month and replace it as necessary, based on the manufacturer's recommendations. A dirty filter will slow air flow, making the system work harder to keep the indoor air temperature at a consistent, comfortable setting. Seal leaks and gaps around your home with caulk, spray foam, or weather-stripping to keep the warm air in and the cold air out. Build an emergency kit that includes a battery-powered radio, flashlights for everyone in the family, fresh batteries for any devices, first-aid kit, and over-the-counter and prescription medications. A list of more essential emergency kit supplies can be found at www.ready.gov. Always operate a portable generator safely and outdoors to allow for proper venting. It's best to consult with a qualified, licensed electrician and review the manufacturer's instructions before installing the generator. Strong wind, snow and ice accumulation can sometimes cause tree branches to break and fall into power lines. Stay away and consider all fallen wires dangerous. KU customers should call 800-981-0600 to report a downed wire or power outage. And, KU customers can also report an outage online at lge-ku.com after registering their account. Be sure to use LG&E and KU's outage map on your computer or smartphone, www.lge-ku.com/ storm, to receive near real time information about outages throughout our system, a summary of outages by zip code and county, and estimated restoration time. Heating Assistance Community Winterhelp, the utility's primary heating assistance program, is available to customers who have difficulty paying their heating bills during the winter months. KU is once again matching residential customers' donations to the program, $1 for $1, creating a greater pool of funds to help those having a tough time keep their families comfortable during the frigid conditions. With the match in effect from October 1, 2014 through March 31, 2015, the utility encourages customers to consider making a tax-deductible donation to the program by making a monthly pledge or a one-time contribution. Even rounding up a payment to the next whole dollar makes a difference. About the program Community Winterhelp is a third-party nonprofit organization, typically a Community Action Agency, that helps customers in financial crises pay their heating bills. Eligibility for heating assistance benefits is determined by the Community Winterhelp nonprofit organization. The program assists families in dire financial situations and lack of resources, leaving a family with no heat or the immediate prospect of no heat; and families with a family member who is elderly, very young, seriously ill or disabled. Neither KU or LG&E plays a part in determining eligibility. Families in need of assistance will be interviewed by Community Winterhelp service partners and should contact the agency to apply for funds.

Getting the facts from KHEAA will help Kentucky families

Kentucky students and their families can get a free, personalized "Getting the Facts" report to help them choose the right college. The report is provided by the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA). "Getting the Facts" provides estimates of how much the family can expect to spend and how much financial aid the student may receive. Students can get estimates for up to six colleges across the United States. To get their free report, students must log into or set up a MyKHEAA account at www.kheaa.com. They should then select their state of residence, enter the date they expect to graduate from high school and click on the "Getting the Facts" link. Students and parents must provide information about estimated income and assets, and students must provide their Social Security number to set up a MyKHEAA account. For more information, call a member of the KHEAA College Access Team at 800-928-8926. KHEAA is the state agency that administers the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES), need-based grants and other programs to help students pay their higher education expenses. To learn how to plan and prepare for higher education, go to www.gotocollege.ky.gov. For more information about Kentucky scholarships and grants, visit www.kheaa.com; write KHEAA, P.O. Box 798, Frankfort, KY 40602; or call 800-928-8926, ext. 6-7372.

human interest stories, fires, automobile accidents and just about anything else considered news. As the publisher/editor, she has overseen the daily operations involved with the business and kept the long-running newspaper going. One of her favorite job duties has always been keeping up with her customers and the happenings from within the community. "When I think of myself I like to think of the old Norman Rockwell classic painting 'The Country Editor'," said Dennie, a lifelong resident of Pendleton County who has met thousands of people throughout her lengthy career. "I've always tried to make time to stop and talk to people whether it be about history, their families, local happenings or whatever else they wanted to talk about - whatever they had on their minds."

Two of Dennie's favorite visitors to The Outlook office have always been Chester Bishop and Marvin Sullivan. "Chester was my go-to guy for history while Marvin has always kept me entertained with his amusing tales or songs on the harmonica."

Under Dennie's leadership the paper has continued its 107-year streak of never missing a publication. Even when the devastating Flood of '97 destroyed The Outlook office along with the majority of the town, Dennie and her employees rallied in her basement managed to get the paper out just two days late (thanks given to The Cynthiana Democrat for letting them use their computers). The paper has endured several hardships over the years including floods and tornadoes but has persevered through it all.

"I've seen a lot in the last 30 years," stated Dennie. "As a matter of fact I don't think that there's very much that I haven't seen."

Not only has Dennie successfully operated the newspaper all these years but she also managed to raise her family along the way. She has been married to her high school sweetheart Billy Ray Dennie for 42 years and through this union three children were born - Amy, Todd and Kelly.

"My daughter Kelly says no matter where we went as she was growing up I always had a pad of paper and a camera with me," said Dennie with a grin. "They grew up around the newspaper business. You never knew when a news story was going to pop up." Dennie's awards and accomplishments with the paper make for a long list but among the top highlights of her career include special sections such as The Kentucky Wool Festival book, The Pendleton County Guide and other projects. Her and staff members have produced two history books and numerous other special sections. During her career, Dennie has also watched the paper jump into the digital age with the launching of The Falmouth Outlook website. She has enjoyed the 100-year anniversary of the paper, been named to the PCHS Wall of Fame and gathered quite a collection of other awards and honors.

"This should be a happy occasion for me but it's very bittersweet," said Dennie. "There's so much I'm going to miss about this job but what I'm going to miss the most are my co-workers. We are a very close group and the people I work with everyday of my life are like family to me."

Dennie's last day will be Friday, January 23. Be sure to stop by The Outlook office, tell her goodbye and wish her the best of luck in her retirement.

Her retirement plans include traveling, quilting, donating time to the Pendleton County Historical Society and spending time with her grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

"After 34 years at the newspaper, I guess this is actually goodbye," said a tearful Dennie. "I want to thank all our readers and faithful subscribers for your patronage. Without you, there would be no paper."

"I have seen so many changes in the newspaper business over the years but one thing has remained the same at The Falmouth Outlook and that is bringing the news to the people and telling what is going on in Pendleton County the best that we can."

"Publisher Neil Belcher and the staff will continue to do a great job of keeping the community informed about what's happening."

"I want to personally thank all those advertisers that I have worked with over the years. I thank you for your business and your continued support of the paper."

"Also I want to thank the faithful subscribers that have been so valuable to the newspaper. Thank you for your loyalty."

"Lastly, thank you all for the wonderful memories. I'm going to miss each and everyone of you."

The Master of Illusion Magic & Variety Show Falmouth Lions Club Eyeglass Fundraiser

The Falmouth Lions Club will present Dinky Gowen: The Master of Illusion Magic and Variety Show Eyeglass Fundraiser at 7 p.m. on Saturday, January 24 at Pendleton County High School. Tickets are $8 in advance, $10 at the door, with children five and under free.

The Falmouth Lions Club is once again asking the community for help in their local Eyeglass Fundraiser charity. All money raised stays in the Falmouth community and benefits the Eyeglass Program. The Eyeglass Program provides eye care, eyeglasses and eye treatments to those in need in the community.

To reward the community for this very special charity, the Falmouth Lions Club is hosting a brand new Magic and Variety Show featuring one of Kentucky's finest illusionists, Dinky Gowen.

For over thirty years, Dinky Gowen: Master of Illusion has been performing at schools, cooperate events, and fundraisers. He is also the featured performer at Beech Bend Amusement Park in Bowling Green, Ky. His production company, Gowen Productions, produces over 500 shows a year including The Magic Show, Wild Bill Hiccup's Wild West Show, and Beech Bend Blitz: The Live Game Show.

Beech Bend Park has also provided complimentary tickets to be given away for free along with other door prizes courtesy of local businesses in Versailles.

This year's show not only features the award winning Dinky Gowen: Master of Illusion, it also features one of Kentucky's newest rising stars Adrienne Phoenix. Adrienne Phoenix is the only female escape artist and fire eater in Kentucky. Also, this night will have comedy, magic, escapes, ventriloquism and much more!

Come join the Falmouth Lions Club for a fun filled family evening and help support the wellness of our community!

LEGISLATIVE PERSPECTIVE ON KENTUCKY GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The General Assembly returned to the Capitol early last week, and in the House, we focused on electing our leadership, establishing our committee system for the next two years and hearing the eighth and final State of the Commonwealth address from Governor Steve Beshear.

I'm proud that I will have the opportunity to serve once again as chairman of the House Agriculture and Small Business Committee. I took on this role a decade ago, but have been a member of the committee ever since I was first elected. I have thoroughly enjoyed working with our farmers and the state's agricultural leaders to help them succeed and look forward to building on the accomplishments that have been made.

In addition to this work, I am a member of several other committees: Local Government; Tourism Development & Energy; and the Tobacco Settlement Agreement Fund Oversight Committee, which keeps a close eye on programs funded by the state's ongoing tobacco settlement payments. I also am happy to be appointed to the prestigious Transportation Committee, which will be my first time serving on it, and I remain a long-time member of the Tobacco Task Force.

On Wednesday, during Governor Beshear's State of the Commonwealth address, he took the opportunity to look back on the challenges faced by his administration and the General Assembly and to note the successes we have enjoyed as well. He also advocated for several issues that will be debated in the weeks ahead.

Our biggest obstacle in running state government since late 2007, he said, has been the long-term effect of the downturn in the nation's economy. The state budget has been cut 15 times for a total of $1.6 billion.

On the positive side, the news economically has improved over the last couple of years. Exports are experiencing double-digit growth and now exceed $25 billion, while the unemployment rate is down more than two points over the last year. It went down in all 120 counties for three straight months last year; before then, that had never occurred even once.

Gov. Beshear said that updating the state's tax incentives in 2009, a law I was glad to vote for, has made a profound difference as well. It has helped hundreds of businesses, which have pledged to invest nearly $10 billion and to create or preserve about 57,000 jobs.

When it comes to education, our high school students have made significant gains in a relatively short amount of time. The college- and career-readiness level of these graduates has risen from less than 40 percent in 2011 to more than 60 percent now. In addition, our high school graduation rate is now 12th best among the states.

Under the constitutional rules governing odd-year legislative sessions, the General Assembly will not return to the Capitol until February 3rd. With only 26 working days remaining, we have no shortage of issues to discuss, as Gov. Beshear pointed out.

There appears to be solid, bipartisan consensus on several major ones. That includes fighting the steep increase in heroin abuse across Kentucky. To underscore how much this epidemic has grown, Gov. Beshear said the Kentucky State Police crime lab analyzed about four times as many cases last year as it did in 2010.

Helping victims of dating violence is another initiative that should become law later this year. Currently, these victims generally do not qualify for a domestic violence order, since the criteria call for them to have been married to or lived with their abuser or to have a child together.

This needs to change, especially for our younger victims. Gov. Beshear said one survey showed this type of violence affected about 14 percent of high school students, a rate higher than most other states.

Another initiative that should become law this year would allow local and state governments to partner more closely with private businesses in building or operating public projects or services. About half of the states have what is called public-private partnerships in place, and this is making it easier – and faster – to do things as large as building multi-billion dollar roads and bridges and as small as running a utility or other local government service.

These and many other issues make up what promises to be a long agenda for a relatively short time-frame. As always, but especially between now and the end of March, I encourage you to contact me with your views or concerns. Your input gives me the information I need to best represent our House district.

There are several ways to reach me. You can address letters to Room 324E, Capitol Annex, 702 Capitol Avenue, Frankfort, KY 40601; or you can email me at Tom.McKee@lrc.ky.gov.

To leave a message for me or for any legislator by phone, please call 800-372-7181. For those with a hearing impairment, the number is 800-896-0305. To check the status of a bill, you can call 866-840-2835, and if you have internet access, the General Assembly's website – www.lrc.ky.gov – is another great resource that features the full text of legislation and House and Senate votes.

If you have a child or know of one who would be interested in serving as a legislative page this year, please let me know that as well.

I hope to hear from you soon.

“Learn from yesterday, live for today, hope for tomorrow.”

Change the world for good

By Glenn Mollette

Recently on cable news a little boy appeared to execute two men in Syria. Beside him a thug chants something that is probably related to the Muslim religion. Days before this, men arrogantly stood in the streets in Paris France shouting Islamic religious rhetoric.

In recent months we have seen beheadings of journalists and humanitarians in Syria while their hooded captors recited words from the Koran or Islamic prayers. While this is going on militant Islamists recruit Europeans, Africans and Americans to come and join their forces.

What sane person sees and hears these barbaric acts of murder and is inspired to enlist? What allegedly inspired Christopher Lee Cornell, a young Ohio man to sympathize with ISIS, buy assault weapons and plot to attack the Capitol? I am not sure anybody can really answer this question. However, it seems to me that whoever unites with a militant Muslim cause is crazy and needs serious help. They certainly do not need to be walking the streets of Paris, New York City or Cincinnati, Ohio buying guns and material to build explosives. Cornell is in jail, which is where he apparently needs to be. The two Kouachi brothers were on the No Fly List because of their activities. Unfortunately, they were not jailed before they could carry out their attack of murder on the Paris magazine.

Notorious French comedian Dieudonné M'bala M'bala has been arrested for being an “apologist for terrorism” after suggesting on Facebook that he sympathized with one of the Paris gunmen, a judicial source has said. A France comic well known for his in your face speeches and comedy routines was recently placed in jail because of a tweet that he sent out. Paris police didn't think it was funny. France is a nation that is on edge. Some things just aren't funny.

Don't get excited. I am for free speech all the way. I am also supportive of the millions of peace loving Muslims. However, our nation has been there and to some extent we still are. Just fly on a plane or go into a federal building and you are reminded that militant Muslims have changed our country forever. We have a kind of fear in America that we had never known before 911.

I've heard old people talk about walking to school and carrying a shotgun so they could go squirrel hunting after school. Not today. Twenty years ago what might have been taken as a joke or just a wisecrack is no longer acceptable. People continue to bully on the Internet, write harassing stuff about schoolmates and talk trash about other people. There is nothing good about verbally assaulting innocent people. One thing is for certain; there is no room for stupid talk when it comes to our national security. Kids of all ages and even adults need to remind anyone who we suspect might do something stupid, “Don't do anything stupid!” Don't associate with any kind of militant Muslim web site. Do not associate with militant Muslim people. Do not make any kind of statement to anybody on social media about any kind of militant Muslim sympathy or leanings! Find something else to do with your life and time! If you need to channel your frustration, loneliness and anger then find a healthy, ethical and moral way to do it.

The good Muslims of this nation and world must stand up, March and fight back against militant Muslims. We need to see and hear the good Muslims crying out against the bad Muslims. In the meantime, if you are not a Muslim don't go looking for a militant Muslim group to join because your life is boring and pathetic. There is a world out there that needs people to utilize their lives to the fullest for good, not barbaric acts of violence against mankind. Be the person who changes the world - for good.

Youth group helps keep our county clean

Dear Editor,

The Falmouth Baptist Church Youth group recently picked up trash on Hwy. 177 from U.S. 27 to Hwy. 159. There were 16 of us, both youth and adults, picking up trash. We collected so many bags of trash from the four miles of road that we could hardly believe it. We kept asking ourselves why anyone would throw so much trash along our roads. There were lots and lots of soft drink cans, tobacco dip containers, fast food wrappers, beer bottles, beer cans, plastic pop bottles, empty milk jugs, etc. We also found several tires along the side of the road. It is sad to think that residents of Pendleton County choose to throw their trash out their car windows instead of taking it with them to put in a trash can. Please help keep our county clean by not throwing your trash along our roads.

Sincerely,
Janice Polley

Bake away those winter weather blues

When the weather outside turns frightful, baking homemade treats will be so delightful. Whether it's with friends, the kids or even by yourself, making treats is a great way to keep warm and active when snowed in.

Try these tips for fun indoor activities during wintry weather:

- Plan ahead. Stock up your pantry ahead of time with baking and decorating supplies, so you'll have what you need during snow days.
- No two snowflakes are alike. It's easy to make a deliciously unique treat. Bake a large brownie or a cake in a snowflake tube pan. Decorate it with icing and marshmallows, sprinkles, candy-coated chocolates or chocolate chips.
- Build tasty snowmen. Instead of getting bundled up to build a snowman outside, make fun snowmen cookies with a two-piece melted snowman cookie cutter set. After decorating, enjoy the cookies with a cup of cocoa.

S'mores Snowflake Brownies

- 1 box brownie mix
 - Water, oil and eggs to prepare mix
 - 4 graham crackers, broken into bite-size pieces
 - 1/3 cup chocolate chips
 - 2 1/2 cups miniature marshmallows
- Preheat oven to 325°F. Prepare tube pan with vegetable pan spray.

In large bowl, stir together brownie mix, water, oil and eggs until well combined. Fold in broken graham crackers. Pour into prepared pan and smooth so batter is evenly distributed.

Bake 24-26 minutes, or until toothpick inserted in center of brownie comes out nearly clean. Cool in pan on cooling grid 10 minutes.

Remove from pan and sprinkle with chocolate chips. Let sit 5 minutes; spread over top. Cover with marshmallows. Let chocolate harden before serving.

Spicy Snowman Cookies

- 3 cups all-purpose flour
 - 1 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 - 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
 - 1/4 teaspoon chili powder
 - 1 cup unsalted butter, softened
 - 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
 - 1 egg
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - melted snowman cookie cutter set
 - cookie icing: white, black, orange brown and red
- Preheat oven to 350°F. In large bowl, combine flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, cayenne pepper and chili powder.

In separate large bowl, beat butter and sugar with electric mixer until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla; beat until combined. Add flour mixture; beat until just combined. Divide dough into 2 balls.

On floured surface, roll each ball into a circle approximately 12 inches diameter by 1/8 inch thick. Dip cookie cutters in flour before each use. Transfer cookies to ungreased cookie sheet.

Bake puddle cookies for 12-14 minutes or until cookies are lightly browned. Bake hat cookies on separate cookie sheet for 8-9 minutes or until cookies are lightly browned.

Cool cookies on sheet on cooling grid five minutes. Remove from pan; cool completely on grid.

Decorate cooled cookies. On puddle cookies, use white cookie icing to outline and fill in. Pipe black icing facial features and buttons, orange icing pull-out dot nose and brown icing arms.

On hat cookies, use black cookie icing to outline and fill in. Add red cookie icing hatband. Attach hat to main cookie with dot of icing.

Embrace childhood with fun and flavors of Winter

As a kid, the winter season was always a special time of year filled with snow days, ice-skating, favorite movies and fun board games. Bringing back care-free moments from winters past can be as easy as gathering together family and friends for game night and sipping your favorite wintertime drink – hot chocolate.

Nearly 70 percent of Americans agree that hot chocolate is the drink that most reminds them of their childhood, according to a new survey by Wakefield Research. This winter, while the weather is brisk, warm up by taking a flavorful walk down memory lane with these fun takes on the classic hot chocolate.

The rocky road hot chocolate and gingerbread hot chocolate are heart-warming treats that ward off winter chills and satisfy your sweet nostalgic cravings. The key ingredient is chocolate milk.

Rocky Road Hot Chocolate

- 2 cups chocolate milk

- 1/4 cup coarsely broken graham crackers
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- chocolate chips, graham cracker pieces, mini marshmallows and toasted almonds for garnish

In small saucepan over medium heat, heat chocolate milk, graham crackers and vanilla until milk is hot.

Pour into mugs. Garnish with chocolate chips, graham crackers, toasted almonds and mini marshmallows, if desired.

For an extra toasty flavor, broil mini marshmallows until lightly browned before garnishing.

Gingerbread Hot Chocolate

- 2 cups chocolate milk
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground

ginger

- dash ground cloves
- cinnamon sticks and gingerbread cookies

In small saucepan over medium heat, heat chocolate milk, cinnamon, ginger and cloves until just boiling.

Remove from heat. Garnish with cinnamon stick and favorite gingerbread cookies if desired.

Five miles of litter on Hwy. 467

Dear Editor,

The Knoxville Christian Church picked up litter on Hwy. 467 for five miles. We picked up several bags of litter that could have been avoided. Help us keep the roads in Pendleton County clean by not throwing out your litter.

Thanks,

Sophomore Leadership Initiative students take part in interactive work session

The 2014-15 Pendleton County High School Sophomore Leadership Initiative students would like to thank Amber Burgemeir and JoEllen Mitchell for presenting to the group regarding leadership in business during an after school meeting last month. The group would also like to thank Julia Webb from Julia's Rhythm and Dance Studio, Kincaid Regional Theatre general manager John Seidenberg, KRT set designers John and Bridget Seidenberg, and KRT costume designer Michelle Lustenberg for information given regarding leadership in the Arts during an interactive work session at the Falmouth School Center. Each presenter connected their experiences and current positions back to the leadership and communication skills necessary to do their job well. They also made it clear that having a passion for what you do has an impact on your overall performance and creativity, teamwork, and communication are vital to success. The Sophomore Leadership Initiative program is sponsored through the school system's GATES program and other community partnerships. Kentucky Farm Bureau's college scholarships

The holiday season may have just come to a close, but Kentucky Farm Bureau (KFB) has one more gift to give to a select number of high school seniors across the state - college scholarships. Later this spring, the KFB Education Foundation will award college scholarships ranging from $400 to $4,000 to 83 high school seniors pursuing a four-year degree.

To be considered, students must complete the application available for download at kyfb.com/scholarships and return the requested material to KFB postmarked by February 28, 2015. Qualifying students will have at least a 3.5 grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) or a minimum 23 ACT score, be the child of a KFB member, and finish high school within the year in which they apply.

KFB also offers four additional scholarships, ranging from $1,000 to $3,000. To be considered for these college scholarships, students must meet the varied criteria outlined for each, complete the appropriate downloadable application available for at kyfb.com/scholarships and return the requested material to KFB postmarked by April 24, 2015.

KFB's Education Foundation was formed in 1953. During the last 61 years, the Education Foundation has awarded over 1,400 college scholarships - worth more than $2.2 million dollars - to both traditional and non-traditional students.

To learn more about these and several other college scholarships offered by Kentucky Farm Bureau, visit kyfb.com/scholarships.

GATES Engineering Challenge Workshop

Phillip Sharp Middle School GATES students participated in a full day Engineering Challenge Workshop on Tuesday, January 13. Students spent the day engaging their creativity, persistence, scientific thinking, communication, and problem solving skills; skills which have been and continue to be an important part of an inventor's tool kit.

The group was divided into seven teams of four students representing various grade levels and identifications. Throughout the day, teams were given challenge scenarios, asked to engineer a solution using available materials and work together as a team to create their design. At the end of each challenge, team inventions were tested and points were awarded.

Students created protection for eggs which were dropped from a balcony, cleared debris blindfolded, created safe and speedy zip lines, and created rockets to transport food.

After points were tallied, the winning team for the day was "Scrambled Inc." with students Casey Jones, Emma Reid, Jared Whitney, and Colby Beane. The second place team consisted of Haley Volz, Alexis Eckart, Ben Davis, and Mason Clos.

GATES teacher Michelle Lustenberg would like to thank Shelly Meyer and Meg Vargas from the Pendleton County Extension Office for helping with set up of student challenges and also with guidance and supervision for the workshop.

Engineering Challenge workshop students Seth Gregg and Lauryn Stout prepare to shoot their rocket as Tony Dietrich, Taylor Sturdivant, and Shelley Meyer observe.

College and career ready county

By Kathryn Justus

At PCHS, students are beginning to learn a lot about College and Career Readiness. Students are encouraged by bulletin boards and posters daily on how important it is to be college and career ready. The reason behind this is students at PCHS are mostly only college ready in accordance to standardized tests scale and it is important to be ready for the work force as well, even if students don't plan to go straight into the workforce. Students involved in FCCLA STAR Events have begun working with several students on how to be college and career ready as well as why it is important to them and the community while administrators and rewarding students who achieve college and career ready status. When our students are college and career ready, it makes our school and community look more reliable and professional.

Metzger speaks to PCHS seniors

The guest presenter to Mrs. Valentine's group of first block seniors on Thursday, October 16, was Jerry Metzger, diesel mechanic for Rumpke of Kentucky. He is actually the supervisor for several garages with the southeast region of Rumpke.

Metzger shared with the students what a high demand there was for qualified individuals in this industry. Of the 27 garages that he oversees, there are 25 full-time positions available for diesel mechanics.

He emphasized how the right kind of training is important and since technology has made so many recent advancements, it is important that students train on equipment that is up to date.

Metzger shared how many of his best workers have been with Rumpke several years and some who started right out of high school as tire technicians and have moved up in the company, taking on new tasks as they develop new schools.

If you have an interest in working as a diesel mechanic or as a residential driver, please visit the Kentucky Career Center, 500 Chapel St. Falmouth, Ky. to complete all applications.

Seniors learn about maintenance

The guest presenters to Mrs. Valentine's group of first block seniors on Thursday, November 6, were two of the maintenance personnel with Pendleton County Schools, Mark Wilder and Brian Cahill.

Both of these individuals explained the type of training and career path they had taken and how the wide range of different work experiences had prepared each of them to handle the many aspects of maintaining the school facilities.

The men commented that most of their work orders were around plumbing issues or heating and air conditioning fixes, while at the same time, they needed to always be ready to paint, repair asphalt or concrete, or inspect a roof.

The two men emphasized how important safety was to their jobs and how there are positions within the construction industry that focus entirely on safety, which includes inspecting equipment, tools, worker's attire and filing several types of reports.

Both maintenance workers encouraged the students, if they were interested in this field, to jump right in and get trained early. This would prepare them now to be equipped for the workforce rather than waiting later in life.

Be wary of student loan repayment companies

If you owe money on federal student loans, you should be wary of sales pitches from companies offering to help borrowers lower their payments, warns the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA).

Such companies charge fees - sometimes high fees - for filling out forms that you can do for free. Many will want to charge monthly fees for monitoring your loans. Again, you can do that for free.

The best place to start is the servicer that the U.S. Department of Education (ED) has assigned your loan to. Your servicer can tell you what your options are and can help you with the forms you need. If you need help finding your servicer, you can go to www.nsls.ed.gov and retrieve your loan information.

You can also go directly to the ED website at www.ed.gov and click on the link titled "Student loans, forgiveness." Under that link you'll find links to detailed information about all of your options.

KHEAA is the state agency that administers Kentucky's grant and scholarship programs, including the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES). It provides financial literacy videos at <http://itsmoney.kheaa.com>. KHEAA also provides free copies of "It's Money, Baby," a guide to financial literacy, to Kentucky schools and residents upon request at publications@kheaa.com.

To learn how to plan and prepare for higher education, go to www.gotocollege.ky.gov. For more information about Kentucky scholarships and grants, visit www.kheaa.com; write KHEAA, P.O. Box 798, Frankfort, KY 40602; or call 800-928-8926, ext. 6-7372.

Wildcats fall to Beechwood

By Sam McClanahan, Reporter

A common trait shared among consistently successful sports teams on any level is the ability to close out games when ahead while withstanding your opponent's best punch as the final minutes wind down.

Last Tuesday, Jan. 13, the Wildcats surrendered a six-point lead at Beechwood late in the fourth quarter before ultimately suffering a gutwrenching 47-45 defeat. Beechwood held the Cats scoreless for the games final 2:22 while executing clutch plays down the stretch to gain the lead and the win.

"We led 45-39 with over two minutes to play and didn't score another basket the rest of the game," said head coach Keaton Belcher. "To get to where we want to go as a basketball program, we must be able to finish off close games and tonight we did not."

Junior Michael Antrobus led the Cats with 18 points including four three-pointers. Grant Walsh finished with nine points while Hunter Wood added seven points, five rebounds and four assists. The Wildcats shot just 35 percent from the field (18 for 52) and 29 percent (8 for 28) from three-point range.

Due to an early deadline, results of the Jan. 16 game versus Grant County will be found in next week's issue. The Wildcats also have upcoming home games against Highlands on Jan. 20 and Mason County on Jan. 23. Both contests will tip-off at 7:30 p.m.

Ladycat Bowling team downs Dixie Heights

For the second match of the season, the Ladycats Bowling Team took home the victory over Dixie Heights 4-1 winning both Bakers games as well as a team game and overall pin count.

The Wildcats did win the second individual game by seven pins and Jonah Smith rolled his personal and team high this season with a 191.

Jonah had a strike or spare in 9 of 10 frames as he flirted with joining Brandon Coffey and Devon Boggs as the only PCHS bowlers to break the 200 barrier.

Brittany Strauss was matching Jonah's success in the girls' lanes as she was throwing strikes to lead the Ladycats in the come-from-behind victory.

Dixie took the opening game squeaking out the a 10-pin victory despite Brittany's 127 and Mickalla Thomas' 103.

Mickalla started out the second game on fire with X's in the first two frames and Brittany took care of the first game 10-pin deficit herself with her high of the season, 158 score. Kendall Carr, 118, Chyann Utz, 113 and Alexis Tolber, 119 placed four Ladycats in triple digits.

The Wildcats dropped both of their opening matches despite Jonah's 191 and Trevor Colvin, 123, Dalton Hill 117, Christian Rick 101 and Robbie Maines 132.

The second game saw the Wildcats fall in one but a 150-range trio helped the Senior Brittany Strauss had her best day as a Ladycat bowler throwing three strikes out of four frames in Bakers games, throwing a 158 and 127 in individual games and leading the Ladycats to their second victory over Dixie this season.

Cats take a 7-pin victory over Dixie Heights. Dalton was high roller with a 158, Trevor right behind with 154 and Jonah rounding it out for a 151. Christian bowled a strong 145 and Robbie had his second strong game at 127.

Dixie was hot in the Bakers game rolling six strikes in ten frames to win the first game.

The second Bakers game saw the Cats take the early lead but falter late. Dixie was just the opposite as they recorded strikes in the 8th, 9th and 10th frames to grab the victory.

PCHS Bowling finishes the regular season on Thursday taking on the very tough Simon Kenton team at Erlanger Super Bowl and then head into region play on Monday, January 26. The first day is bowling individual games for the individual regional championship and spot in state competition. Bakers games for the team championship and team spot in state competition will be on Wednesday, January 28.

CheerCat Red Squad named grand champs

Ladycats upset Nicholas County

Coming off a 2013-14 38th District Championship and preseason favorites to repeat in 2014-15, Nicholas County Lady Jackets were considered the team to beat in 38th District.

And beat them is exactly what the Ladycats did, claiming a 67-62 victory and keeping Pendleton County undefeated in district play.

"The 38th District Tournament (held at Robertson County) should be a battle based on the district regular season from the games I have seen," coach Scott Collins said. "We still have Robertson County in front of us and with Mitchell and Saner, it will be a tough test for us."

With a 19-10 second quarter that saw Autumn Martin explode for 10 of her game-high 30 points, Nicholas County seemed to have control of the game with a 32-25 halftime lead.

The Cats were struggling to find a consistent scoring threat as leading scorer Makayla Bishop, averaging 16.4 ppg, and McKayla Manor averaging 2.4 three-pointers and 9.9 ppg, combined for only seven first-half points. Seniors Bailey Wanstrath and Isabella Hall kept the Ladycats in the game with seven and five first half points, respectively.

The third quarter would see the Ladycats right the ship and the Makayla/McKayla scoring duo find their touch. Manor drilled two more 3-pointers and Bishop scored 10 points as PC turned the 7-point deficit into a 2-point lead at the end of the third quarter.

With Pendleton attacking the basket, they went 11-17 from the charity stripe in the fourth quarter for the win.

"The girls played well," coach Collins said matter-of-factly. "I was proud of the fact that being down by 7 at half, we were able to fight back and pull out the win. Still not happy with our defense and our inability to stop the other team from penetrating into the middle."

Makayla Bishop led the Ladycats with 23 points including 19 in the second half. McKayla Manor ended up hitting four 3-pointers for the game for 13 points. Amberly Purdy contributed eight points but was key in the second half going 6-7 from the line.

PCHS also matched up with Mason County one of the top two teams in the 10th Region this past week but did not fare as well. Mason blitzed the Ladycats 17-4 in the fourth quarter to pull away for the 66-43 victory. Manor and Bishop each tallied 12 points with Manor having her second game in a row dropping four long range bombs on the opponent.

Pendleton County played Campbell County on Saturday, January 17 and Augusta on Monday night, January 19 but results were not available at halftime. They travel to Brossart on Friday night, January 23.

Kentucky Fish and Wildlife to survey anglers

The fisheries division of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources is conducting a survey to assess angler attitudes, opinions and fishing habits.

A random sample of 1,800 resident anglers who purchased an annual fishing license in 2014 will receive a survey booklet in the mail. The fisheries division mailed surveys Jan. 12.

"Even if fishing isn't particularly important to them or they are not experienced anglers, we still want their opinion," said Dave Drevs, fisheries research biologist for Kentucky Fish and Wildlife. "For this survey to accurately represent all persons fishing in Kentucky, it is vitally important for each angler who receives a survey to complete it."

Anglers will be asked the types of areas they fish, species pursued, fishing frequency and their motivations. The survey also includes questions about their beliefs concerning policies and regulations of Kentucky Fish and Wildlife. Responses from survey participants will help guide the future direction of fisheries programs.

Drevs encourages those who receive a survey to fill it out completely and return it to Kentucky Fish and Wildlife with the envelope provided as soon as possible.

BERLIN BAPTIST

We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday school at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and Sunday night services are held at 7 p.m.

This past Sunday we enjoyed a wonderful message from Brother Dan Black taken from Exodus 12:5-15 and Mark 14:12-26 and titled "The importance of preparing your heart for The Lords Supper."

BLANKET CREEK

We lost a dear friend this week; John Carr. He was a deacon and had a beautiful singing voice that will be sorely missed. He contributed his time to the Lord and now he is singing in God's choir. He is a great asset to heaven.

Bro. Joe's message this week is the four seasons of our Christian life. First is our spiritual birth. When we are babies we live to be served. Second is our spiritual child stage. We are selfish, want attention and repeat everything we hear. Third is our spiritual youth stage. They think they know everything, but make unwise and rash decisions which get them into trouble. Last is the spiritual adult stage. By this time we should be leaders in our church and community, be considerate of others and work in harmony with one another. What spiritual stage of life are you in.

We added Mary Ratliff, Doris Lovelace, JoLynn Redden, Mark Posey, Nicole Kerlin, and Chloe McFarland to the prayer list. Also the families of John Carr and Eva Crump.

BUTLER METHODIST

The ladies group met on Friday evening, next Saturday January 24, will be the men's meeting at 7:30 a.m., they will be giving out food boxes from the pantry.

The archery ministry will be starting back up on February 3, through March

10. Please come check out this new ministry that has so many excited in our church.

A new Bible study will be held beginning on January 15, at 7 p.m. at the church.

Please remember Larry Bowen, Greg McElfresh, Lori Fookes, Debbie Layne (lost her mother), Mary Ann's friend, Shelia's family and also Shelia whose sugar seems to be too high, Heather Wright, Kelsey Knight, and praises for Pam's surgery going well and tests results good, and for Gran and Pop's anniversary party.

God is good all the time, All the time God is good.

May God be with you this week.

CHAPEL OF PRAISE

Our morning message was titled "Dressed for hell" Our scripture readings were taken from Luke 16.

Sadly many people today are like the rich man in the Lord's parable; they are only concerned about the outward appearance and having all the pleasures that this sinful world has to offer.

Although, the rich man was dressed in fine apparel, his hell-bound soul was naked and spiritually dead. He had planned to live out his life in an earthly mansion only to discover that hell was to be his home for all eternity.

If God were to dangle our feet over the fires of hell and open our ears to the horrible sounds of weeping from those that are in great torment, then we would find the church on its knees praying for the lost of this world that they would not suffer the same fate as the rich man.

Prayer concerns: Sue Marsh, Gerald Fields, Betty and Sam Hodge, Linda Colvin and Lisa King.

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

Greetings from the Falmouth Baptist Church - Come worship with us!

One exciting thing we are doing this year is having various people from our church share their personal story about how God has been at work in their life. Bro. Cohen shared his story this week. That led beautifully into the message that asked "Who Are You?" Don't be defined by your background. Don't be defined by the choices/decisions you've made. Don't be defined by who others think you are. Within each one of us is the person everyone thinks us to be and then there is the person God knows us to be! It's not who you are, it's whose you are. Each of our stories is part of God's bigger story. The way in which we live our lives is telling a story. What kind of story is your life telling?

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

"Lead by example." Don't let anyone think little of you because you are young. Be their ideal; let them follow the way you teach and live. Let the love of God and your faith show in you. Keep a close watch on what you do and think. Stay true to what is right and God will bless you and use you to help others.

Give your heart to Jesus and read your Bible.

Youth meet Thursday at 6 p.m.

FIRST BAPTIST

Mike Whaley blessed us by singing, "My God is Real." It was good to have Bro. Harry back in the pulpit after his surgery. His message was taken from 2 Corinthians. God can do more for us than we can imagine. No one is perfect, we all make mistakes. We are all sinners saved by Grace. God has new mercies for us everyday. Unless you have Christ in your life, doing good will be worthless. Remember, thru the blood of Christ we have been forgiven.

Remember in your prayers, the lost, those facing illness and those who have lost loved ones.

Our shut-in of the

"A cheerful heart is good medicine, but a crushed spirit dries up the bones."

~ Proverbs 17:22

month is Jeanette Taylor, 402 Licking Street, Falmouth, KY 41040. Send her a card to brighten her day.

"God is never blind to your tears, never deaf to your prayers and never silent to your pain!"

HARVEST COMMUNITY

Bro. Donnie's morning message was titled, "Dangers of spiritual immaturity" based on scripture text from Hebrews 5:1-14. In order to grow from infant Christians to mature Christians, we must learn discernment., We must train our consciences, our senses, our minds, and our bodies to distinguish good from evil. As you grow in the Lord and put into practice what you have learned, your capacity to understand will also grow.

Prayer concerns: Bobby Mitchell, Racheal Stamper, Mark Perkins, Kathy Wyatt, Glen Lonaker, Anne Ryan, Bill Ockerman, Ricky Myers, Judy Morgan, Larry Bowen, Doug Graziani, Debby Veirs, and the families of John Carr, Rob Robinson and Paul Haubner.

You are invited to join us at 111 Shelby St. Sundays: 9:30 a.m. Bible study for all ages, 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. worship services, Wednesday prayer service 6 p.m., youth meetings Sundays and Wednesdays 6 p.m. Praise team practice Wednesdays 7 p.m.

Blessings to all.

MORGAN CHRISTIAN

After the frigid cold weather this week, 23 degrees was more than welcome on this Sunday morning. We had nice attendance with most of our regulars back in service. Continue to pray for the ones still not feeling well.

Steve Work led the music with Kelly Veirs assisting in the singing.

Kathie reviewed the past year with out children in Children's Moment.

Church family was the topic for Duke Wilmes message. We are a small church but are closely knit like family. We need to keep God's will our goal, not get caught up with everyday mundane things in our life. Wednesday night Bible study resumes Wednesday, January 14, 6 p.m. at Dawn and Steve Woods' house this week only. Will be at fellowship hall from then on.

Young peoples Bible study resumes next Sunday January 18, at church basement.

Mt. MORIAH

We welcome all youth to our Wednesday night youth group at 7 p.m. We will be having various activities, teaching, music and crafts. On February 20, 2015 we will be going to Winter Jam, at US Bank Arena. This is a great Christian rock concert that will be great for all ages. Many adults will be going. We are also continuing our Wednesday night Bible study at 7 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

A scripture that Brother Darrell wanted to share is Psalm 1:1-2 (1 Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. 2 But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night.)

Join us Sunday school

10 a.m. and service at 10:45 a.m.

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship and Christian fellowship. Sunday school begins at 10 a.m., morning worship is at 11 a.m. and evening worship starts at 6:30 p.m. Bible study is on Thursdays at 6 p.m.

Job 1:20 (Then Job arose, and rent his mantle, and shaved his head, and fell down upon the ground, and worshipped.)

Please remember in prayer John Thomas, Tyler Reynolds, Faye Halcomb, Murty, Veda Buntain, Marry Patton, Sue Callahan, Dreama Brown, Terry Morris, Hunter Bruin, Mark Branham, Alice Thomas and the Ford family. Also remember to pray for our country and its leaders.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

Our sermon series is about "love." Today's message told us to love people when they least expect it and least deserve it! Love God - love others.

PLEASANT RIDGE

Bro. Rick's message was from Galatians 1:6-12.

The gospel is good news. A person's acceptance of Jesus as their savior is good news. Did you know that four out of ten Christian's are unable to give the definition of the gospel.

Here are five facts about the gospel. First the gospel does not need any additions. Second perverting the gospel is serious. Third the gospel saves people from their sins. Forth only the gospel can produce a real life change. Fifth the gospel came from Jesus himself. That is the message that never changes.

John 14:6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

Evening Bible study 6 p.m.

PINE GROVE

Melanie Redden and Debbie Schwarberg gave us a rendition of gospel music including compositions by Andréa Crouch, who recently passed. Included was "We're Going to Meet the King."

Brother Ron chose Luke 3 as a basis for his message relating the coming of John the Baptist. He explained how the people thought he was a prophet as they had not had one for four hundred years. Their baptismal ritual had been on in which they had baptized themselves over an extended period of time. To be baptized by another brought a new meaning to Christianity. Jesus, who was free of sins, had no need to be baptized, but chose to be in order to be with the sinners.

We extend our sympathy to the families of Allen

Gaunce and John Carr and prayers to Greg's Aunt Francis and to Carol Mains, who will have surgery on February 3.

SOUTHSIDE

January 11, Brother Marvin Sullivan, worship leader, led the congregation with the opening hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers." Brother Clay Sullivan preached the sermon, "Meeting the Needs of the Southside Church of Christ" from Ephesians 4:11-16. Brother Clay preached on three facts about meeting the needs of the Church: 1. God expects everyone to be involved. 2. Ministry has purpose. and 3. Ministry brings great results! The memory verses for the week comes from Ephesians 2:10, "For we are God's handiwork, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do." Be in prayer for all in one way or another. Come and worship with us this Sunday: 9 a.m. Sunday school and 10 a.m. worship service. Have a great day!

TRINITY

There's nothing like kicking off a Sunday morning with a potluck breakfast to fill your belly. Thanks to everyone who came out early.

Special Music was sung by Elaine Hefner, "Holy Ground." What a great song to pave the road for the sermon.

This past Sunday, Marco and the youth class demonstrated to the children and easy way to remember the Ten Commandments. Thanks youth for being examples to the smaller ones.

Bro. Hefner's message was "I am the true vine." Scripture based out of John and he shared with us the importance as Christians to grow and bear fruit. We get our nutrition from the vine which is Jesus Christ. When branches do not produce fruit, the branches are pruned. Is your branch producing fruit?

Family Game Night, January 30, 7 p.m. don't forget your snacks to share and favorite games.

TURNER RIDGE

We celebrated the baptism of Rhoda Brown. Remember to pray for those starting their Christian walk, many things try to get in the way as we get closer to the Lord.

Bro. Dale led the children's message "New Year: Fresh Start" he used the example of when we become a Christian, its a fresh start, a new beginning as a child of God.

Bro. Dale's message "New Year: Now What" helped remind us that we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ. With the wisdom of knowing Jesus Christ as your savior comes the accountability. We as Christians are responsible for leading others to know Christ as their savior. But it doesn't end there, we should pray for them and let them know that it is important for them to read the Bible, attend church and be in Christian fellowship.

"We announce the message about Christ, and we use all our wisdom to warn and teach everyone, so that all of Christ's followers will grow and become mature." Colossians 1:28

January deadline for KDA's poster and essay contest

Agriculture Commissioner James Comer reminds Kentucky students that they have until January 27, to submit entries to the Kentucky Department of Agriculture's 2015 Poster and Essay Contest. The theme is "Kentucky Agriculture: Growing the Next Generation of Farmers."

"Kentucky needs more young farmers to carry on for older farmers who are retiring or scaling back," Commissioner Comer said. "We hope this contest will inspire some of Kentucky's young people to go into farming or look into some of the many other exciting careers in agriculture."

Students are asked to submit either a poster, an essay, or a digital image based on the contest theme. Statewide poster and essay winners from each grade, kindergarten through 12th, will be chosen, and an overall digital winner will be selected.

Cash prizes will be presented to the winners in March at the Kentucky Agriculture Day Celebration, and their work will be displayed at the Kentucky State Fair in August.

Entries must be postmarked no later than Jan. 27. A completed entry form must be taped or glued to the back of each entry. The name of the teacher and school must accompany each entry. Winners will be notified on Feb. 20.

The contest is conducted by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture in partnership with Kentucky Agriculture and Environment in the Classroom Inc.

For more information, including complete contest rules and entry forms, go to www.kyagr.com/agcontest or contact Agriculture Education Coordinator Jordan L. Spalding at (502) 782-4125 or jordan.spalding@ky.gov.

Stay hydrated this winter

When the mercury drops, it's more important than ever to stay properly hydrated. During the winter, people may not seem to sweat as much as in the summer, but that doesn't lessen one's risk of dehydration.

"As a hospital physician, I've seen far too many people succumb to dehydration-related health scares, stemming from high-elevation ski trips to travel to simply forgetting to drink water because it's cold outside," says Dr. Ralph E. Holsworth, medical physician at Southeast Colorado Hospital. "Staying properly hydrated can help ensure good health through the winter, reduce dry skin and even help you flush toxins out of your body to reduce the chances of getting a winter cold or flu."

Boost your body's hydration

Roughly 75 percent of the North American population is chronically dehydrated. By the time you feel thirsty (and sometimes when you don't) you may already be getting dehydrated. Whether you're skiing or just taking a walk on a brisk day, the experts provide these simple tips to help you stay hydrated throughout the winter season and beyond.

- Set a daily water intake goal. A good rule of thumb for daily water intake from food and fluids is 2 liters for females and 2.5 liters for males with moderate physical activity levels. Adjust your personal goal to account for climate and activity level. Start your day by filling a tumbler or setting out bottles of your favorite water totaling your goal. Supplement with healthy foods that have high water content like soup, salad and pears.

- Winter it up. During cooler weather, chilled water isn't very enticing. To make it more appealing, warm a mug of water or add a burst of flavor from your favorite winter fruit like oranges, tangerines or cranberries. Drop in a cinnamon stick for an added flavor kick and enticing aroma.

- Check the mirror. A tried and true way to know if you're getting enough water is to check your mirror. If your skin appears dry and flaky, it's time to drink more fluids.

- Pack the H2O. From carrying a backpack to wearing a special hydration pack – it's important to bring water with you during winter outings. If you simply can't bring it with you, be sure you have a list of stores that offer bottled water, and keep a supply of it in your car's trunk for emergencies.

While you may not feel it, your body is in need of proper hydration even on the coldest winter days.

Healthy lifestyle competition

The Pendleton County Extension Office and Three Rivers Health Department will be conducting a "Waist Management" program starting the week of February 3, and will last twelve weeks.

Perks of the program will include weekly:

- Weigh-ins
- Challenges
- Prizes
- Incentives to encourage weight control
- Fact sheets on health and nutrition

Weigh-in locations will include:

1. Pendleton County Extension Office every Tuesday from 8 a.m. - 7 p.m.
2. If there are at least 10 participants at any school, church or place of business and an individual willing to conduct the weigh-in, we are willing to make that an official weigh-in location as well. We want this to be easy!

Benefits and cost to program:

- Cost will be $20 per participant. All money will be given back to participants at the conclusion of the program in prizes and awards.
- Awards will be given to the individuals that lose the most weight by percentage and to the participants that receives the most points. (Award amounts will be determined after registration).

- Points will be given for attending planned physical activity or nutrition sessions, for completing weekly challenges and going to the weekly weigh-in.
- Blood work and other free health screenings will be given to all participants.

If you are interested, the steps to participate are easy:

1. Show up at the Pendleton County Extension Office on Tuesday, February 3, between 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. for the initial weigh-in, measuring and screenings. Remember to bring your $20 registration fee.
2. Recruit individuals in your school, church or business to participate so that location can be used as a weigh-in location. (Minimum of 10 is needed).
3. Start making healthier lifestyle choices to better your quality of life.

If you want more information on the program, please feel free to call 654-3395 and ask for Kenna Knight.

The Amish Cook serves up tasty Frogmore Stew

The Amish Cook

By Gloria Yoder

Dear Friends both far and wide, I was impressed with a quote by motivational writer Brian Tracy so I'll share it with you: "Move out of your comfort zone. You can only grow if you are willing to feel awkward and uncomfortable when you try something new."

Don't we all face those times when there is something we know we should do, yet would much rather stay in our comfortable little nook? It's so easy to just shrug it off. How about joining me in making a point of giving a word or note of encouragement to a sad and lonely heart? Or perhaps even inviting someone over for dinner who doesn't have a family or friends to spend time with?

This week I'd like to introduce you to a dish that would be ideal to serve to your guests. This unique dish is called Frogmore Stew. Let me hasten to assure you that it doesn't have anything to do with frogs, whatsoever! Although as a girl my brothers occasionally came in the house with frog legs for us to fry! For some reason Mom was never really excited about it, but to us children it certainly was a novelty!

Back to the Frogmore Stew, I'll tell you about my first experience with it. A number of years ago before I was married my co-workers at the Amish store and I were invited to our boss's house for supper. I was told we'll be served "Frogmore Stew" which sounded quite distasteful yet I was certain that it would be delicious if served at their house. Even though it didn't sound appealing I was eager to give it a try and see what it would be like.

Upon arriving at their house we were welcomed into the dining room where they had extended their table providing enough space for everyone to sit down. A large plastic table cloth was spread over it. As we were seated I noticed that there were no plates in sight only napkins and forks. After a prayer of thanks we watched with wide-eyed fascination as they dumped drained vegetables, chicken breasts and shrimp right onto the table! Several piles were made in order for everyone to be able to reach them. Dips and saucers were passed as each of us made little dabs on the table in front of us.

It looked hilarious. We were all seated around a long table with food heaped on piles through the center. Using our forks we stabbed an item from the pile and dabbed it into our dips. I'm a dip lover so naturally I had lots of fun. Mmmm one of my favorites was mixing barbecue sauce with sour cream and using it for my veggies or meat chunks.

With Frogmore you can pick out whatever strikes your fancy. This is especially nice for picky eaters while some may dodge the carrots or onions their "neighbors" are delighted to have several extra.

Yes, I found Frogmore Stew to be quite different, yet tasty. I was intrigued with the idea of having something out of the ordinary so we decided to make it for my out-of-state boyfriend (future husband) when he came for a visit. Only that time we poured the veggies, etc onto cookie sheets instead of dumping it directly onto the table. Plates can be used instead!

This is a large recipe. It may be divided if desired which would also shorten the cooking time. Don't limit yourself to the recipe. Items may be added or omitted to both the broth and the chunked food according to your personal preference.

Ingredients:

Broth:

- 1 cup ketchup
- 1 cup vegetable oil
- 1 cup vinegar
- 1 package 3oz of crab boil
- 3/4 cup salt
- 2 teaspoons black pepper
- 16 cups water

Stew:

- 6 pounds chicken (tenders or breasts)
- 5 pounds link sausage
- 2 pounds shrimp
- 12 unpeeled potato wedges
- 1 1/2 pounds baby carrots chunked into 2-3 inch pieces
- 18 ears corn
- 1-2 green peppers
- 2 12oz. mushrooms
- 3 large onions, cut into wedges

Directions:

1. Schedule if planning to eat at 6:30 p.m.
2. Leave burner on high at all times.
3. 5 p.m. put broth to boil.
4. 5:30 p.m. add potatoes and carrots.
5. 5:40 p.m. add sausage.
6. 5:50 p.m. add chicken.
7. 6:10 p.m. add mushrooms, onions and corn.
8. 6:20 p.m. add shrimp and green peppers.
9. 6:25 p.m. turn off burner and let set five minutes, drain off liquid and serve at once.

FROGMORE STEW

10. Tip: have everything cut up and ready before you start.

11. Suggested sauces for dipping: ketchup, barbecue sauce, sour cream and ranch dressing.

Editor's Note: This dish - sometimes known as "Low Country Boil" - is a delicious example of South Carolina's sea island cooking. According to food historians Frogmore Stew is named for a tiny town on the coastal island of St. Helena. The multi-flavored one-pot dish was probably created in the 1950s by a local shrimp fisherman. The dish calls for shrimp, corn on the cob, smoked sausage and new potatoes steamed in a savory broth. The dish has become a favorite for parties and celebrations. As someone who studies Amish culinary culture, this dish is a perfect example of how non-traditional foods (i.e. burritos, tacos, Frogmore Stew) find their way into Amish kitchens and become favorites.

More than Half of Nation's Dairy Producers Enroll in New Margin Protection Program

U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Secretary Tom Vilsack today announced that more than 23,000 of the nation's dairy operations - over half of all dairy farms in America - have enrolled in the new safety-net program created by the 2014 Farm Bill, known as the Margin Protection Program. The voluntary program provides financial assistance to participating farmers when the margin - the difference between the price of milk and feed costs - falls below the coverage level selected by the farmer.

"Enrollment far exceeded our expectations in the first year," said Vilsack. "We're pleased that so many dairy producers are taking advantage of the expanded protection. USDA conducted a lot of outreach to get the word out. When you compare the initial enrollment rate for the Margin Protection Program to the longstanding federal crop insurance program, where participation ranges from 30 percent to 80 percent depending on the crop, it's clear that these outreach efforts made a difference."

In Kentucky more than 350 of the 780 dairy operations have enrolled in the Margin Protection Program. More than 50 percent have elected buy-up coverage. When markets change the Margin Protection Program can help protect Kentucky dairy producers from those changes.

During the three months of the enrollment period, USDA conducted a robust education and outreach effort to the nation's dairy producers. The department held over 500 public meetings, sent out nearly 60,000 direct mailings, and conducted more than 400 demonstrations of the Web-based tool designed to help applicants to calculate their specific coverage needs.

Unlike earlier dairy programs, the Margin Protection Program offers dairy producers a range of choices of protection that are best suited for their operation. Starting with basic coverage for an administrative fee of $100, producers can select higher levels of coverage at affordable incremental premiums. More than half of applicants selected higher coverage beyond the basic level.

Dairy producers interested in enrolling in the Margin Protection Program for calendar year 2016 can register between July 1, 2015 and Sept. 30, 2015.

To learn more about the Margin Protection Program, visit the Farm Service Agency (FSA) online at www.fsa.usda.gov or contact a local FSA office at offices.usda.gov.

The Margin Protection Program was made possible through the 2014 Farm Bill, which builds on historic economic gains in rural America over the past five years, while achieving meaningful reform and billions of dollars in savings for the taxpayer. Since enactment, USDA has made significant progress to implement each provision of this critical legislation, including providing disaster relief to farmers and ranchers; strengthening risk management tools; expanding access to rural credit; funding critical research; establishing innovative public-private conservation partnerships; developing new markets for rural-made products; and investing in infrastructure, housing and community facilities to help improve quality of life in rural America. If you discover an H&R Block error on your return that entitles you to a larger refund (or smaller tax liability), we'll refund the tax prep fee for that return. Refund claims must be made during the calendar year in which the return was prepared. OBTP#B13696 ©2013 HRB Tax Group, Inc.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY
PENDLETON CIRCUIT COURT
CASE NO. 10-CI-00221

UNION SAVINGS BANK

v.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

LISA SULLIVAN and
MICHAEL SULLIVAN

DEFENDANTS

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale the Pendleton Circuit Court rendered February 10, 2014 in the above action, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Pendleton County Judicial Center at Falmouth Kentucky to the highest and best bidder at public auction on January 29, 2014 at the hour of 10:00 a.m. the following described property:
 Situated in the County of Pendleton and Commonwealth of Kentucky, to wit:
 Being all of Lot Number Four (4) of the Busmeyer Land Addition containing 7.2138 acres, more or less, described in Plat Slide 2-209B of the Pendleton County Clerk's Records at Falmouth, Kentucky.
 Michael Sullivan and Lisa Sullivan, husband and wife, who acquired title by General Warranty Deed from Brend Busmeyer and Melinda Busmeyer, husband and wife, dated February 6, 2007, recorded February 9, 2007 at 9:00 a.m. in Deed Book 283, Page 399 of the Pendleton County Court Records.
 PIDN 058-00-00-033.01
 Property Address: 346 Jara Lane, Foster, KY 41043

This property is being sold to produce the sum of $40,911.14 plus accrued interest from February 1, 2010 to August 1, 2010 of $1,319.49, with interest thereafter at the rate of 6.50 percent (variable) per annum until paid, plus all costs incurred herein, and for its reasonable attorney fees herein expended in the amount of $4,777.50, plus any sums Plaintiff expends from the date of this hearing before the Master Commissioner to the date of sale of the real estate herein described in payment of ad valorem taxes, insurance premiums, winterization, or in preservation of the real estate.
 The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

- 1) The purchaser shall be required to pay ten percent (10%) of the purchase price on the date of the sale, to apply on the purchase price;
- 2) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable, in cash or certified funds, within sixty (60) days from the date of sale;
- 3) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety thereon for the unpaid balance of the purchase price, said bond to bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale, until paid;
- 4) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal, together with all accrued interest thereon;
- 5) The purchaser shall be required to assume and pay any and all ad valorem taxes on the subject property for the current year, and all subsequent taxes;
- 6) The subject property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of any party to this action, except restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Pendleton County Clerk's Office, if any;
- 7) Possession of the subject property shall be given to the purchaser upon confirmation of Commissioner's sale, and the Defendants or any persons claiming through them shall have vacated the premises by that time;
- 8) Said property shall be sold subject to:

- a. Assessments for public improvements levied against the subject property;
- b. Existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws, or regulations;
- c. Any facts which an accurate survey or inspection of the property may disclose.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.
